The Elections in Great Britain.

DEFEAT OF THE OPPOSITION.

Speech of Lord Palmerston on Affairs in China.

The Europa's mails were received at an late an hour on Sunday night that we were unable to publish full details of the news in yesterday's issue. Our London files extend to the 1st inst., and we extract from them this morning some additional intelligence of interest.

As clearly anticipated, the elections in Great Britain, as we have here given, show an [illegible] majority for Lord Palmerston.

Among the most conspicuous of successful candidates we find Mr. John Bright, Mr. Gladstone, Lord John Manners, and Mr. Cardwell, elected for Liverpool; Mr. Turner and Mr. J. A. Turner (Ministerial) for Manchester; Mr. Hadfield and Mr. J. C. Ewart (Ministerial) for Liverpool; Messrs. Muntz and Scholefield (Ministerial) for Birmingham; and Messrs. Roebuck and Hadfield (Opposition) for Sheffield.

The borough contests have been brought to a close with [illegible] results, some three of Palmerston's adherents being returned unopposed. The country is now looking forward to the county contests for a full solution of the problem involved in the Ministerial appeal to the country.

The London Times is magnanimous in speaking of the defeat of Richard Cobden; not more magnanimous than just when it says:

Let the constituencies think, not upon what he has done since 1846, but upon the energy, the singleness of purpose, the zeal with which he fought the fight for food for many a long year, when that fight was no easy one. He is not a man to be cast aside like a shattered tool. Unless we much mistake the signs of the times, there is a little cloud upon the horizon—as yet no bigger than a man's hand—which denotes a time when his services may again be called into requisition. For ten years we have opposed these two gentlemen in well-nigh every act of their public lives, and yet now we must honestly say that we deeply regret to see tossed from the rostrum of the House of Commons the names of John Bright and Richard Cobden."

Results of the English Election.

Lord Palmerston has been extremely fortunate, not only in his own successes, but in the defeat of his opponents. It is true that his especial rival, Lord John Russell, has been rejected for the City of London—obtaining only third place on the polls, however—but it is equally true that Cobden, Bright, and the whole set commonly known as "the Manchester Party," have been signally defeated. It was this party who were the means of putting the Government into that recent minority on the China question which caused the dissolution of Parliament. The Manchester Party, the ultra-Tories, and the leading Peelites, united to hint Palmerston, in the hope that he would resign. But, astute and experienced, he resolved on a general election, which, although not ended, has literally thrown his personal opponents out of the Legislature altogether.

Mr. Gladstone, who backed Cobden in the vote of censure on Palmerston, has succeeded, with some difficulty, in being again elected to represent the inhabitants of the University of Oxford. He has been a Parliament-man since 1833, was a decided Peelite, made an indifferent Chancellor of the Exchequer in Lord Aberdeen's unfortunate Cabinet, and is understood to have looked, in any proximate Tory Ministry, for the office of Finance Minister, with the leadership of the Commons—Disraeli himself modestly taking the Foreign office, probably on the ground of his personal intimacy with M. Louis Bonaparte. Mr. Gladstone is 46 years old, took a double first class at Oxford, was expected to have made a great politician, is a good speaker, but is rather a [illegible] than a [illegible].

Mr. Bright, the [illegible] Palmerston [illegible] Manchester, has [illegible] 1847. He has [illegible] years' Parliamentary [illegible] has never [illegible] Peel. He is a little too independent for [illegible] and is looked on as a sort of modern edition of downright and plain-spoken Andrew Marvell.

Parliament Pam, who has really disappointed public expectation, (which, on his first appearance, hailed him as "a ship of the old block,") has been defeated on the borough of Bury, which he had represented since July, 1852. He had previously sat, since 1849, for Leominster. This young man, second son of the late Sir Robert Peel, is only 34 years old, and has shown considerable ability in retaining office since 1851, under three Prime Ministers. He is simply a red tapist, worthy of being Chairman of the Circumlocution Office. In all likelihood, he will retire from public life, for some time, and can be well spared.

Mr. Layard, late of Nineveh, has been defeated at Aylesbury, which he had represented since July, 1852. Rather uncertain in his politics, he voted against Palmerston on the China question, which, we dare say, caused his defeat. A good speaker, lively, well-informed, and rather personal, he will be missed. He is 40 years of age, and will probably return to the House of Commons ere long.

Though Mr. Gladstone was reflected for the University of Oxford, his friend Mr. Edward Cardwell, a somewhat aspiring member of the Peelite clique, has been distanced by Oxford City. Four years ago, he was elected without opposition. He was a member of Peel's Government in 1845-'6, and of the Aberdeen Ministry in 1853-'5. Fifteen years in Parliament had made him somewhat of a debater. He was open for office under a new Derby-Disraeli Cabinet, and is only 46 years old.

Parliament has lost Admiral Berkeley, a Lord of the Admiralty, who has been cast aside by the electors of Gloucester—notwithstanding the great property influence on that city of his brother, the Earl Fitzhardinge, better known as the notorious Colonel Berkeley of a departed generation. The Admiral is beaten, therefore, on his own ground. He is nearly 70 years old, first entered Parliament in 1832, and his political career is probably ended.

As a set-off to the defeat of Peel and Berkeley may be placed the defeat of Cobden and his friends. Aware that the West Riding of Yorkshire would reject him, Mr. Cobden went to Huddersfield, where he has been defeated by a majority of 246. At the age of 53, after 14 years in Parliament, he is cast aside, and may attribute his defeat to his unpopular Peace doctrines.

In Manchester, in 1852, John Bright and Milner Gibson were returned by a majority of 1,000. The other day they were defeated, in the same place, by a majority of between two and three thousand votes.—Their Peace policy has beaten them. Gibson, aged 49, entered Parliament twenty years ago, and was a good speaker. Bright, aged 46, has had 14 years in Parliament, and was an excellent debater—fearless, eloquent, and hard hitting. No doubt he will soon minister Parliament, of which he was a very independent member.

Mr. Miall, able editor of the Nonconformist, the leading newspaper of the English Dissenters, has been thrown out of Rochdale. He went the whole way with the Manchester School, and was a good speaker, as well as an excellent committee-man. He had been in Parliament some five years, and is 45 years of age.

Sir Joshua Walmesley, one of the most liberal men in Parliament, who has sat for various boroughs since 1847, and has disbursed immense sums in election contests, has been defeated at Leicester, which he has represented since July, 1852. He is 63 years old, and was one of the best business men in the House of Commons. He made a large fortune in the Corn-trade, at Liverpool, and was Mayor of that city some 18 years ago. His plain honesty made him a very impracticable party-man, and perhaps no member of Parliament was so strongly committed to the five points of Chartism.

Also her loss to the Manchester party, is Mr. W. J. Fox, late member for Oldham. Very popular as a Dissenting Minister and an eloquent political lecturer, Mr. Fox entered Parliament ten years ago, at the age of sixty-one, but made less impression in the legislature than was anticipated. He mainly devoted himself to the promotion of National Education, and was extremely liberal in all his political views. He was an able writer, also, and formerly edited the True Sun, (a London daily,) and the Monthly Review. For many years past he has written the letters in the [illegible] Dispatch, signed "Publicola." Now [illegible] is probable that his parliamentary [illegible]

[illegible] that there will be over 150 new members [illegible] Commons from the present election. [illegible] difficult to ascertain how Parliament will [illegible] the defeat—which is almost the personal suppression—of the Manchester party, is an enormous advantage to Lord Palmerston. He will play his cards, no doubt, with his usual skill—sometimes even dazzling Fortune, perhaps!—and is likely enough to have his own way in the new Parliament.

Speech of Lord Palmerston on the China Question.

THE NEW PLENIPOTENTIARY—REVIEW OF THE AMERICAN OPERATIONS AT CANTON—SIR JOHN BOWRING SUPPORTED—EXPECTATION OF A SETTLEMENT OF PENDING DIFFICULTIES.

On the evening of the 26th of March, after the election at Tiverton, Lord Palmerston attended a banquet to celebrate the reopening of the Athenæum. His Lordship, in answer to a toast proposing the health of "Her Majesty's Ministers," delivered, in a powerful speech, the foreign policy of the Government, and in relation to the question of the day, said:

It is a mistake to suppose that we are at war with China. As yet, the collision has been purely local, and the Emperor of China may yet disavow the barbarian who has been the cause of it, but, at the same time, I don't expect that when Lord Elgin reaches China that will have actually happened. I am inclined to think he will find things much in the same state as when the last accounts left, and that the Emperor has trusted to the chapter of accidents to see what will arise out of the collision. The Emperor of China is now in a very singular and critical position. There is a rebellion going on, which having began to the south of Canton, has now quitted the south of the empire—which has now reached its centre—which has now reached Nankin, the ancient capital of the Chinese Empire, and that circumstance adds to the doubt as to what will be the decision of the Imperial Government. But, gentlemen, we have chosen a man of high rank and great experience, who distinguished himself by his government of Canada; [cheers;] who successfully negotiated a treaty with the United States; a man of great ability and conciliatory disposition, with a full knowledge of the intentions of the Government at home; whose mission is intended as no disparagement to Sir John Bowring; whose mission is founded on the established practice of the country in difficult cases; and I trust that Lord Elgin, backed, as he will be, by an overwhelming naval force, double that which Sir William Parker had in the late China war—and backed also by a large military force—that he will be able to effect the objects sought; and if fair means fail he will also be able to make his demands felt and known by means which the Chinese Government will not, I think, be disposed to feel without amendment. [Cheers.] Therefore it is a most gratifying thing to find the feelings of the country so unanimously expressed on this question, and you may depend upon it the very remoteness of the scene of action and the limited nature of the contest which is going on will make it more striking to foreign countries—will more strikingly manifest the patriotic feelings of the British nation—and be productive of the best results with regard to our future relations with other countries who might otherwise be tempted to encroach and trespass upon your representative with impunity and meet with no resistance, for it is an honorable policy for a country to show itself watchful of its rights, and to stop early beginnings. You may stop beginnings with ease, but if you wait until they have arrived at difficulties of magnitude our exertions must be commensurate with the grievance; and wars which may be stopped in the commencement involve the country in exertions and expense which may be avoided by timely action and more prudent conduct. [Cheers.] And therefore, gentlemen, it is quite a mistake to say that those public officers who take energetic measures to stop early beginnings are fond of war; they are the best guardians of peace, for it is only with the matter is known, and has advanced itself, and our representative has been watchful to prevent aggressions, it is only then that we can expect that respect and confidence from their countrymen upon its rights and from offering its results. [Cheers.]

We are often told to look to our country in the United States as models of conduct, and there are some things in which they might just as well follow us (a laugh), but if we look to the advocates of the peace be extreme in their words "peace and right" in the United States, and then compare their conduct with their conduct in China in comparison with our officers civil and naval? Why, there was a boat belonging to one of their ships of war fired at. Well, that was a great insult, but there might have been an excuse made for it that we were engaged in these hostilities with China, and it might have been said that this American was taken for an English boat. It is true the officers in that boat waved the American flag, but the Chinese might have said that is a well known strategy of war, and you wave the American flag to deceive us; we believed it was an English boat, and therefore fired at it. But did the American commander, like Sir Michael Seymour and Sir John Bowring, demand an apology and demand that a similar thing should not occur again? Not the least in the world. He inverted the usual course which is said to be characteristic of energy—a word and a blow—he put it thus—a blow and a word (cheers and laughter.) He began to knock down the fort, and after destroying that fort he sent to the Commissioner to say an insult had been offered to his flag, and he hoped for an apology (cheers) and an assurance to the effect that it would not happen again (cheers:) and he gave twenty-four hours for this apology and explanation to be sent to him; but before these twenty-four hours had expired the ship which was lying near this fort saw something or other going on which the officers shrewdly imagined were for renewed defence, if not for renewed attack. Well, this American officer, without waiting and writing to the United States to know what to do—without waiting for orders from Washington—he did not wait even for the 24 hours to expire, but he said, "No, no, Mr. Chinaman, this won't do; you are throwing up fresh batteries and putting in fresh guns," and he commenced the demolition of the fort and took possession of these guns before the time had expired which he had given the Chinese Commissioner in order to make his apology and explanation. [Cheers.]

Well, then, we are told our officers were precipitate; but, gentlemen, they went step by step; there was an interval of time in order to enable the Chinese Commissioner, if he chose, to make an apology and promise of amendment in the future, which at that time had been demanded. [Hear.] But then it was said that Sir John Bowring and Sir Michael Seymour made a second demand which the officers in China had been forbidden to make in dispatches sent out some eight or ten years ago; and a noble friend of mine, with whom I was talking before the division in the House of Lords, said he should vote against the Government, and that his reason for doing so was a dispatch I had written in 1847. I said don't attach importance to what any gentleman wrote in 1847, but look to the circumstances of the present case. Now, the case at the present is different. We said, in 1847, don't you be on unfriendly terms with the Chinese Government at Canton, but trade in the usual course; don't you commence hostilities to obtain the fulfilment of our rights according to the treaty of Nankin, which gives the British subjects a right to trade in every one of the five towns, of which Canton was one. True, we think there would be advantage in it—a manifest advantage there would be if the British merchant out of the town and the Chinese merchant in the town could hold a direct communication instead of through agents, brokers, and people of that sort, for the British merchant at Canton is at the mercy of this class of people; he cannot carry on his business advantageously as in the other four towns; therefore there is a real value in the thing. Besides, in order to keep the English out of Canton, the Chinese Commissioner had ordered the people to insult them, while the people outside treat the English respectfully. Sir John Bowring himself, accompanied by two or three gentlemen and two English ladies, walked round the suburbs of Canton, and he says that he found the Chinese themselves a trading people; that they are not a cruel or insulting race, as the mandarins are, and if left to themselves would treat our people with the same civility and good will as outside Canton, or as they are treated at Shanghai; and that everywhere else where the Chinese and English are associated, everything went on the most friendly and comfortable footing. Therefore, I say, the obstacle was artfully created, and its removal would be attended with commercial advantage to the merchants at Hong Kong and Canton. But we said don't interrupt peaceful relations for the sake of this advantage, but it was interrupted on other grounds, and then it was obvious that the personal intercourse between our officers and Chinese officers would and might probably tend to settle the difficulties on the occasion, and if continued in the future, to prevent future misunderstanding also. Well, that which Sir John Bowring told Sir Michael Seymour to ask for was not for permission which I and my colleagues had desired the Superintendent and Plenipotentiary not to acquire by force of arms—it was not to enter Canton—it was the right to have personal intercourse between our authorities at Canton and the authorities within the town—it was for a freer communication, and not for the indiscriminate entrance of all British subjects. I say it was a proper demand, properly demanded, and there could be no pretence to refuse, and the obvious effect of it would have been to prevent future mistakes, and to heal the present differences, and, supposing Commissioner Yeh did not mean to bring about a rupture, I will undertake to say if we had had direct communication at the time the Arrow was boarded and her crew carried away—I say if it had been possible for Sir John Bowring or Sir Michael Seymour to explain the nature of the question, and to argue the question in a friendly nature with the Chinese authorities—the result which has since taken place would have been prevented. Well, gentlemen, great injustice has been done to Sir John Bowring, [hear] Sir John Bowring was chosen by me to go as consul to Canton, and when a vacancy in the government at Canton occurred he was transferred to it by Lord Clarendon. But what is Sir John Bowring, and what was he? It has been said to be the fashion of place in responsible situations none but members of the aristocracy—it has been the fashion to say these appointments go by favor, and not by merit. He was not a member of the aristocracy; he had not a powerful influence to protect and support him; he was a man like many others in this country, and as many others will, I hope, continue to be—he raised himself by his own ability and exertions [cheers]—by his industry, his talents, and his attainments he raised himself to the high position in which he is now placed. Was he a man of wild temper—a firebrand? Why he was formerly secretary of the Peace Society [cheers,] a man of the quietest, most kindly and benevolent disposition—a man, I believe, who never had a quarrel with mortal man, who loved peace, whose life had been devoted to questions connected with the social intercourse of nations, with commerce, with trade, with the removal of all those obstacles which checked and confined the intercourse of nations—he had been employed in conjunction with Lord Clarendon to arrange a better tariff of duties between England and France, and by him also employed to induce the government of Austria to liberalize their tariff with a view of increasing the commercial relations between Austria and England, and he was therefore peculiarly adapted to the office, which consisted mainly in guarding the commercial interests of this country in our commercial relations with a nation like China, and he was therefore one of the last men to misuse his power or to plunge his country into difficulties and war. [Hear, hear.] And therefore, it would have been the greatest baseness for the sake of a few votes to try to reverse the adverse verdict of the House of Commons by throwing over an agent who performed his duty to the best of his ability, and whose conduct in our hearts we approved. We felt that every Englishman with a British heart in his bosom would have done exactly the same thing under similar circumstances. [Cheers.] I will venture to say that I could name some gentlemen who are the organs of the peace party who would not have been less vigorous than Sir John Bowring. It was no disparagement to Sir John Bowring in appointing Lord Elgin to go out to settle this difficulty. When special difficulties arise special men are sent out to settle them. Lord Elgin has thus gone out without superseding Sir John Bowring, who will continue to be what he is, trusted and confided in by the English Government. Lord Elgin's mission is for a special purpose, and when it is finished, as I hope it will be in a twelvemonth, or a little more, he will return and leave Sir John Bowring in exactly the same position in which he is now. Well, gentlemen, I have taken advantage of your kindness. [Cries of "Go on!"] I have made what is a great deal more than an after-dinner speech ought to be, but I am sure you feel a great interest in the events passing, and I felt it my duty to give these explanations, such as they are, for I am satisfied the more these matters are looked into the more they are understood, and the more the details are looked into by the people of this country the more the nation will be confirmed in the choice of representatives, the more we shall feel that we stand upon sure ground, and that this week, and the next week, and the week after will give opportunity of showing us the sentiments of the electors of every part of the country. I beg to thank you on the part of myself and colleagues, and I assure you the moments which official duties enable me to spare among my friends in this town are among the most agreeable and happy. [Loud and long continued cheering.]

THE TRIUMPH OF LORD PALMERSTON AND OVERWHELMING DEFEAT OF THE OPPOSITION.

From the London Times, March 30.

The appeal to the people has been answered with a force and distinctness beyond our anticipations—we may even say our wishes. A mild rebuke and moderate discouragement were the utmost that we hoped or desired for a policy which was rather factious and mischievous than wholly unprincipled, and we certainly did not expect the signal retribution which has fallen on the heads of its authors. The League has disappeared from Parliament. Cobden has been beaten by 246 votes at Huddersfield; Bright and his colleague by from 2,000 to 3,000 votes at Manchester; Aytoun is beaten at Aylesbury by a Minister of a county, two or three days in the field; Walmesley is thrown out at Leicester, and never home in the Tower Hamlets, we lose the familiar name of Sir W. Clay. Layard loses his seat in Aylesbury, and Sir F. Baring has scarcely held his in Portsmouth, which he had represented for twenty-five years. Mr. Gibson, who has been joined in opposition by Mr. Milner Gibson, who has been joined in opposition by Mr. Horsfall, Mr. Bright, and Mr. Cobden, is in a minority of 246 votes. On the other side are remarkable casualties. Mr. F. Peel has been beaten at Bury, and Admiral Berkeley, First Naval Lord, has been turned out of his seat at Gloucester by Sir R. W. Carden. Among the new members, the return of Coningham for Brighton counts at least one against the loss of some strong Liberals elsewhere, and Kinglake at Bridewater is compensation for the loss of Layard. The results of two severe struggles may be set off one against the other. Lord John Russell has come in third on the poll in the city, throwing out his antagonist, Mr. Raikes Currie; and Mr. Bernal Osborne brought in his colleague with himself against a powerful opposition at Dover. Lord John Russell owes his return partly to the Tories, and partly to the grateful exertions of the community whose political rights he has advocated with so much perseverance and so little success, but whose claims cannot be again postponed after the reiterated decision of the constituency in their favor. Such are some of the incidents of only half the General Election. The Ministerial gain already is over 20, and more may confidently be expected from the counties and other constituencies yet to declare themselves.

Sir De Lacy Evans is the first-born of the new Parliament. His election was the first declared, and he is consequently entitled to act as Speaker until the regular functionary be appointed. A better representative for Westminster than the gallant General could scarcely be found, and his former colleague, Sir John Shelley is returned with him.

From the London Times, April 1.

The elections have changed the whole face of the political heavens. We are no longer as we were a fortnight ago, as regards either this Chinese question or a dozen others of older and nearer interest. People do not now ask who will be in the new Parliament, but exclaim: "What a Parliament there will be out of doors!" The expungation not only of vicious, but even of some meritorious elements, proceeds almost too rapidly. When the House of Commons meets, it will be with the serious consciousness that a great number of its most active and able spirits are discontented exiles, moving heaven and earth, and ready to go lo ver still, to obtain readmission. It will be in the case of the Celestial Empire, besieged by "outer barbarians," or "foreign devils," as the vagrant sympathies of some will entitle them to be called. Outside of the House, agitating, haranguing, writing, plotting, combining, and all but coalescing, will be Cobden, Bright, M. Gibson, Miall, and W. J. Fox; there will be Sir J. Walmsley, A. Pellatt, Sir W. Clay, Wilkinson, and Oliveira; there will be Layard, and other free knights; there will also be absent Cardwell, Roundell Palmer, the two Phillimores, Butt, M. Chambers, and a host of others, more or less distinguished, or hoping some day to distinguish themselves.

All of these will be in outer darkness, yet not at all hopeless of readmission. Indoors there will be positive gaps in the debate—cries for Cobden or M. Gibson, and no Cobden to stand up. His own purge has operated too effectively by half, for he has turned the House out of doors. Like the old lady in the nursery rhyme, he has sold his bed and now lies upon straw. In the House we should think the result will be a little more calmness and decency of discussion, and a little less of that peculiar style of oratory which has recently been imported from "the bright region of the setting sun" into the British House of Commons.

We may be sure there will be a prodigious cry for a new Reform Bill. It stands to reason there must be one.

In the present instance it is evident that some of the disappointed candidates must have sadly underrated the force of those feelings which go under the general name of patriotism. Was it reasonably to be expected that the population should rise to advocate the right of a fellow like Yeh to pull down the British flag flying over a peaceful vessel engaged in British trade, and carry away the crew, for the purpose of beheading an old man who was said to be the father of a pirate? Englishmen must be very much altered since we formed our first and freshest impressions of them, if any ingenuity whatever can persuade them not only into allowing this, but even into an enthusiasm for it and its author, his defenders, and abettors. No Parliamentary reform would have made any difference here. No imaginable apparatus, no scale of suffrage, no equality of divisions, nothing whatever short of driving the voters up to the hustings and making them vote for Messrs. Cobden and Gladstones on penalty of death, would have affected the result. It is the old English heart and the simple English nature which have done the work here. From all kinds of constituencies, great and small, popular and close, there has been the same result. For our own part we never desired or even imagined, that an appeal would be made to the people on such a question. To us it seems the height of absurdity that any men professing to be statesmen should force such an appeal upon the Minister. He had no choice, however, but to accept it in behalf of the people, and, confident as we were as to the result, we were satisfied the appeal had been made. That satisfaction increases every day, and England may now be congratulated on a Parliament elected not upon any measure or political difference, but simply on an appeal to the natural feelings and common sense of the people.

OPPOSITION VIEWS.

From the London Star, April 1.

It is, however, not to be denied that by the dishonest outcry which Lord Palmerston and his satellites raised about the Canton business, they did succeed to a great extent in so far throwing dust into the eyes of the people as to render them comparatively blind to those great questions of progressive reform so urgently demanding attention. If, as Lord John intimates, the next House of Commons will contain a larger number of sincere Liberals than the last, this result, we may fairly infer, has been brought about, not in spite of the Peace Minister, but in spite of the Peace Minister; partly from the foment repetition, in very shrill Billingsgate, of his violent invectives against Cobden and Bright, and partly from the Chinese war to keep the eyes of the country fixed upon that one object, while with cunning sleight of hand he filched their votes from the constitutionists before they were aware. It seems, however, that notwithstanding this dexterous trick of our old political wizard, a larger number than he calculated on of advanced Reformers having slipped into the House, more certainly by accident than by any wise vigilance of the electors, many of whom showed themselves most eager to be deceived. If Lord John's estimate on this point be correct, then we may be very certain that the fate of Lord Palmerston's Government is sealed. We believe him to be utterly devoid of both the capacity and the inclination to originate wise and comprehensive measures of organic reform. His experience has been that of the diplomatist; his ability, which is undeniably great, is principally administrative. And what is lacking in the Premier himself will hardly be supplied by the members of his Cabinet.

But will Lord John Russell prove himself equal to the occasion? Will he, eschewing those small peddling compromises which he has hitherto dignified with the name of new Reform bills, present to the country something likely to arouse its determination and enthusiasm? In the speech which he delivered yesterday, there is a hearty, ringing tone that promises well. He has told the citizens, and most truly, that the battle recently fought for him has been a people's battle. It was the people that came to his rescue and bore him on their shields to victory after he had been abandoned by the pompous plutocracy of Downing-street. And more than this, we trust his lordship will not have failed to observe that the unfranchised people rallied around him with as generous a devotion as the electors, attended his steps as he retired from the Guildhall, and cheered him with the utmost earnestness and fervour.

Indeed we have little doubt that if the intelligent working men of this country had, in any numbers, possessed the franchise during the present election, we should not now be looking forward to a House of Commons without such men as Cobden, Bright, Gibson, Layard and Miall. Will Lord John deal frankly and generously with this class by giving them such a share in the rights of Freemen as will rescue the representation from the exclusive power of the aristocracy and the public houses, which constitute, at present, the least intelligent as well as the most timid and corrupt portion of our constituencies? There is a great opportunity open to him. Let us hope that he will not shrink from seizing it with boldness and decision.

Suspension of an American Banking House in Paris.

From the Paris Correspondence of the London Globe.

Messrs. Greene & Co., the oldest-established American banking firm of Paris, have suspended payment, to the consternation of the United States colony in this capital. The cause of this failure is attributed to imprudent advances made on French merchandise dispatched to Nicaragua and other Central or South American States. The liabilities are not exactly known, but they are heavy. Much inconvenience will be experienced by Americans traveling on the Continent, who are provided with letters of credit from the firm in question. American families residing in Paris, who may have had deposit accounts with the late firm, will suffer less annoyance, as Messrs. Munroe & Co. have, I believe, expressed their willingness to make the necessary advances to this class.

A Policeman Murdered by Burglars—Escape of the Assassins.

Stephen P. Hardenbrook, a Ninth Ward Policeman, was murdered in West-street about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, by two burglars whom he discovered issuing from a clothing store with bundles in their hands, and whom he attempted to arrest. Captain [illegible] gives the story as follows: He gave the alarm to one and rushed upon them. One of them fired, but the other immediately seized his companion, and with him like a flash disappeared. The fellow rushed immediately, and before the officer could overpower him, the first burglar returned to the aid of his companion, and during the struggle that ensued the officer was stabbed with a dirk in the left side by one of the burglars, who then fled. Hardenbrook, unconscious of the extent o the injury which he had received, chased them to the corner of Perry and Washington-streets, where, exhausted by the loss of blood, he fell to the sidewalk. Officers Downing and others, who were attracted by the alarm which had been given, soon afterwards came up and conveyed him to the Station House. He was, when found, unable to speak, but after having received surgical attendance he revived sufficiently to give an account of the manner in which he received his fatal wound. He was then taken to his residence at No. 48 Troy-street, where he died at 4½ o'clock in the morning.

A thorough but unsuccessful search was made for the dagger with which Hardenbrook was stabbed. The sheath was found, and judging from its size, the dagger must have been at least five inches in length. Clothing to the amount of $150 was taken by the burglars from the store from which they were seen to emerge, but all of it was subsequently found upon the sidewalk where the struggle took place, with the exception of a coat and vest, which it is probable the thieves carried away upon their persons.

Mr. Hardenbrook was a native of this City, and 31 years of age. He leaves a wife and child. He was appointed upon the Police in 1854. As an officer and a citizen, he was much esteemed.

At 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon, Coroner Connery proceeded to the late residence of deceased and commenced an inquest upon the body. A few witnesses were examined, but their testimony offered no facts additional to those above given. Drs. Finnell and Weltze, who made the post mortem, explained the nature and extent of the wound, which penetrated the lobe of the left lung. The inquest was then adjourned until to-day at 10 o'clock A. M.

Charge of Obtaining Goods under False Pretences—Transactions to the Extent of $90,000.

Moses Bettman, a well-known and extensive dry goods importer, doing business in Liberty-street was arrested on Monday last and taken before Justice Davies, of the Supreme Court, on a charge of committing extensive frauds upon his creditors. The complaint was made by Messrs. Mitchell & Pott, importers, at No. 56 Broadway, who allege that Bettman obtained upwards of $90,000 worth of goods on time, within the past three months, for which he never intended to pay, and that he disposed of these goods to parties at a price below that for which he agreed to pay for them himself; and that some of them he forwarded in the original packages to Philadelphia, where they were sold at auction at prices much less than their original cost. It is further charged that the defendant caused fictitious entries of sales to be made in his books, with a view to deceive, and that on the 27th of March he removed from his shelves between $8,000 to $9,000 worth of goods, and hid the same in a hardware store. All these things, it appears, he did with a view to failing and defrauding his creditors. This intention, it is charged, he more than once averred to a certain party to whom also he detailed his plans of proceeding.

The accused was ordered by the Justice to find bail, to appear, in the sum of $5,000, and failing to do this, he was committed to Eldridge-street jail, where he remained over night. Next day, (Tuesday,) Messrs. Bernheimer Brothers, furnished the necessary security, and he was thereupon liberated. An injunction was granted, restraining him from removing, or disposing of, in any way, such of the stock as yet remains in his store.

Bettman, it appears, is indebted to Mitchell & Pott in the sum of $31,000, and largely, also, to Bowen & McNamee, and other firms. He has heretofore stood well with business men. The whole affair has greatly exercised the dry goods importers.

LOSS OF LIFE.

From the Evening Post, of Wednesday.

At 9 o'clock last evening the bell of the Metropolitan recorded the alarm for a fire in the Ninth district. On reaching the vicinity of Chatham and Lombard streets, the streets were so crowded with people that the home of the fire could not be discovered for some minutes, and it was with great difficulty the firemen could proceed with their work in laying hose and overhauling their apparatus. In about five minutes, however, a dense volume of flame rose from the roof and rear of the three magnificent five-story warehouses recently erected on Chatham-street, a few doors above Lombard, and which were owned by Mr. Elias Lewis, of Harford County.

The centre warehouse, occupied by R. Hoffman, Jr., & Co., as a wholesale shoe store, and which seemed to be the one in which the fire originated, though the interior of the rear of the whole pile was apparently on fire before the flames broke out, in a few minutes after the flames extended through to the front of Messrs. Parkins & Co.'s warehouse, first on the lower and second floor, and rapidly following in each of the five stories.

The wind blew quite a gale during the whole time of the fire, lashing the flames to a fury that caused the division walls of the warehouse, adjoining on the south, occupied by Messrs. Noonan & Hammond, importers of hardware, although of unusual strength and solidity, to crumble and crack, and soon the whole building, with all its valuable contents, were likewise involved in the conflagration.

The warehouse to the north of Messrs. Edwards, was occupied by Joseph S. Robinson as a paper warehouse, and the two upper stories by Messrs. L. Harmanus & Co., as a cap manufactory. This was the last of the three warehouses in the row, and it was also soon enveloped in flames, with its entire contents.

The whole three warehouses were one sheet of flame in less than an hour from the commencement of the fire, and extending back about 150 feet, presented a scene of destruction that has not been witnessed in Baltimore before for many years. The south gable wall finally fell with a tremendous crash into a side alley, part of it on the roof of an adjoining warehouse occupied by Messrs. Walker, Richardson & Co., W

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

COURT CALENDAR—THIS DAY, April 16.

SUPREME COURT—Nos. 509, 528, 302, 341, 361, [illegible]

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—General Term.

THE LIEN LAW—TO WHAT EXTENT THE FURNISHER OF MATERIALS HAS A LIEN.

John P. Cunningham vs. David Jones.—F. Ingraham, Judge.—The plaintiff seeks to recover from the defendant, under the mechanics' lien law, for work done by him for the contractor with the owner. The referee has found that the defendant (the owner) made a contract with George W. Burwick to erect on his land an addition to his brewery.

That there was no stipulation in respect to the sum or price to be paid, except that the labor was to be day work.

That the plaintiff did furnish the materials as claimed by him.

And that before the building was completed, Burwick abandoned and discontinued the work.

From the evidence it appears that the work was abandoned before the building was inclosed.

The right of the plaintiff to recover depends upon the question whether the contractor had a claim which he could have enforced against the owner at the time he abandoned. If there was nothing [illegible] the owner, there is no fund out of which the claim can be collected from the defendant.

[illegible] contract in the name (or to which I expected my opinion, the referee having found that there was one) it was an entire contract and not divisible in the time of payment. The agreement was to work an addition to a building, without any specification as to the time of payment. The law in such case requires the whole work to be done before the contractor can call for his payment. A mere voluntary payment on account does not alter the rights of the parties.

Performance of the entire contract was a condition precedent to payment, and the plaintiff was bound to show that he performed before the defendant became liable to the payment.

Hollister vs. Vanderlip, 19 J. R. 134. Jennings vs. Camp, 13 J. R. 94. Parson vs. Bonneell, 9 Mass., R. 141. Chesapeake vs. Rowley, 18 Wend. 187.

There are cases where a substantial compliance has been held sufficient to take the case out of the rule, but I know of no case where this has been extended to a contract left half finished, and exposing the contracting party to great injury from such abandonment. In the language of Judge Spencer it was never intended to countenance the case of a willful desertion of the contract when partly executed by one of the parties without the assent and against the will of the other.

In White vs. Hewitt, 1 E. D. Smith p. 395, this question distinctly arose, and the Court say it is not law that a party contracting to perform a specific job, may proceed it so far as he thinks proper, and then abandon it unfinished without the fault or assent of the party with whom he contracts, and then sue and recover for so much labor as he has chosen to devote to the undertaking. See also Neville vs. Frost, 2 E. D. Smith p.

The omission to state the compensation in the contract does not alter the rule. The defendant would be bound to pay what the work and materials were worth, but he had a right to insist that the contract should be first completed. If the contractor wanted any other terms of payment, he should have stipulated for it in his contract.

The judgment must be reversed.

Henry Hoe, Judge J. Graham.

A PERSON CANNOT BE ARRESTED FOR MALICIOUS PROSECUTION TILL THE PROCEEDING IS TERMINATED.

Gustavus A. Sohn vs. Andrew Dunlap.—Ingraham, J.—The order for arrest was founded on an affidavit showing that plaintiff had been arrested in an action against him, and averring that such action was malicious.

The supposed false imprisonment is merged in the alleged malicious prosecution, and the remedy, if any, is for the latter cause.

The affidavit in reference to the latter are defective in not showing that the action in which the plaintiff was arrested has been terminated, which fact should appear either to bolster up or expose the plaintiff's case on the trial. I understand from the counsel that the action is still pending.

This is contrary to the rule. (4 Wend. 81.)

Motion to discharge order from prison on plaintiff's not to be granted.

Fulton Long vs. David McLellan.—Referred to James Mackin.

Robert A. Chase vs. John Clarkson.—Motion for leave to have execution granted.

Application for William B. Foster.—Commission granted; application to put off cause, if reached before, to be made at Trial Term. No stay granted.

Beeves are sold by the estimated dead weight of the four quarters; the so-called "fifth quarter" (hide and tallow) is not reckoned in here as it is in Boston and some other cities. When cattle are weighed or estimated alive, the dead weight is reckoned at a certain number of pounds to the 100 lbs. of live weight, as agreed upon. The general rule in this market for medium cattle is 56 lbs. to the 100; 44 lbs. being allowed for the "fifth quarter" and offal.

The cattle of to-day, as compared with last week, are about the same—that is, for stock of the same grades.

We quote:

REMARKS FROM THE DRIVE YARDS.

Contrary to general expectation, the yards on Forty-fourth-street were pretty well stocked with Cattle this morning. Including a few sales of last evening there were 2,469 for to-day's market, and 2,770 for the week, which is 200 above the total City receipts for the preceding week. The total receipts at the four City markets have been 3,936, or 3,394, including 40 retailed at Bergen. Owing to the light stock last Wednesday and the increased demand incident to the close of the Lenten Fast, most of the animals found purchasers to-day at prices about equal to those obtained on last market day. The average of all sales we place a little higher, not on account of any advance of the same grades, but from the decidedly superior general quality of the Cattle offered to-day.... The highest rates were obtained early in the day, as there was a gradual decline towards evening, especially on the poorer grades.... The Cattle did not show well, owing to the frequent rains of late.... The yards were in a very muddy condition, and the frequent showers throughout the day, helped to render the market dull and anything but pleasant. There were, however, but few animals unsold at the time we left the yards. Eastern dealers bought freely at Albany this week. We learned of sales of some 700 for Brighton, Providence, &c.

The following are the principal lots on sale to-day, including a few disposed of last evening:

Milch Cows are sold at each of the above yards, usually with their Calves at their sides. The prices vary somewhat with the supply and demand, and very greatly, of course, upon the milking properties. The principal buyers of the latter have to remember to do with the price.... Not unfrequently a Cow is sold as $90@$100, or even $125. The general rates throughout the year for ordinary Cows is $30 to $40 or $50. Quite a number sell above $50, and more, perhaps, below $30. We often see apologies for Cows go at $20 @$25. The weekly reports from the different yards will give the weekly fluctuations.

The receipts show a slight gain over last week. Prices are nearly the same, and good cows are in fair demand.

Allerton reports 70 Milch Cows received during the week, selling at $30@$35 for common, $40@$50 for good, and $50@$60 for extra. But little variation since last report, with a fair trade.

Browning reports receipts of 73 Milch cows, selling at $30@$35 for common, $40@$50 for good, and $60@ $70 for extra. Supply equal to the demand. Much of the stock is common. Selling as last week.

Chamberlin reports 101 Milch Cows, selling at $25@ $30 for common; $35@$45 for good; and $50@$65 for extra. A few as high as $70.

Fresh Cows continue in good supply, with a more active demand.

O'Brien reports 144 Milch Cows, selling, at $30@$40 for common, $40@$50 for good, and a few at $60@$65.

Market fully supplied. Quality generally good. Selling same as last week, only not as brisk.

VEAL CALVES.

Veal Calves are sold by live weight, each animal being weighed alive at the time of sale. The principal places of sale are Allerton's, Browning's, Chamberlin's and O'Brien's.

Receipts for the past week have been large, but prices of good animals, owing, in part, to a scarcity of beef, remain unchanged. Poor young calves continue to be sent in.

Allerton reports 918 Veal Calves, selling for 5c. @ 7c.; a few at 7½c. Market slightly supplied. "Bobs" are plenty and sell at nominal rates.

Browning reports 115 Veal Calves, selling generally at 5c. @6c. live weight; a few at 6c. @6½c. Supply large, especially of "bobs," which are dull at low rates.

Chamberlin reports 164 Veal Calves, selling at 5½c. @7½c. Supply large and quality generally fair. Selling well at quoted prices.

O'Brien reports 108 Veal Calves, selling at 5½c. @ 7c.; a few at 7½c. A fair supply of good ones which sell well. Medium or common calves are dull.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

These are chiefly sold at Allerton's, Browning's, and Chamberlin's, at so much ℔ head for a particular lot of Sheep or Lambs, or of the two together. They are also frequently sold by live weight, as this is readily ascertained. The actual prices at the different yards seldom vary greatly. The difference in reputed prices is generally due to variation in the quality. When they are sold by weight, it is usually the net weight, which is ordinarily one-half what they weigh when alive, the pelt and offal making the other half. If fat and small-boned, they will dress 55 lbs., and in some cases 60 lbs. ℔ hundred. The average run is about one-half the live weight.

The receipts continue to fall off. After "shearing time" they will probably be more abundant. The greater portion of these brought in have been clipped, although it is too early to deprive them of their Winter clothing. The middle of May is soon enough, in this latitude.

Allerton reports receipts of 527 Sheep, which brought $5@$8 ℔ head, or from 12c. @14c. ℔ lb. dressed weight. A few at 15c. @16c. None in market this morning. They have been bringing high prices.

Browning reports receipts of 1,420 Sheep, selling at 12c. @14c. Short supply, especially for 60 day—Stock nearly all sheared, and of good quality.

Chamberlin reports receipts of 1,241 Sheep and Lambs, selling at $5@$7 ℔ head, or 11c. @14c. ℔ lb. dressed weight. Short supply, especially for to-day's market. Stock held back in the country for better prices.

REPORTS OF BEEVES SOLD AT BROWNING'S FOR WEEK ENDING APRIL 14, 1857.

Hunt & Baldwin report sales of 600 Sheep at 12¾c. @ 16c. ℔ lb. Clipped Sheep bring the former, and those with wool on, the higher price.

SWINE.

These are sold alive at so much ℔ lb. gross or live weight. Considerable numbers are sold at Allerton's, Forty-fourth-street, and at various other yards, while large droves are sold direct from the cars or boats, and driven immediately to the various slaughter-houses.

Arrivals have been more free of late, and a downward tendency is perceptible. The quality of those now in market, at least what we have seen, is an improvement on previous consignments.

Allerton reports receipts of 3,500 hogs during the past week. Prices for live hogs ranged during the week from 7¾c. to 7¾c. ℔ lb. Market well supplied with fat hogs, and prices are declining. One lot of 254 hogs are now held at 7¾c. live weight.

Van Brunt & Warnock, Pork-Packers, No. 200 Chambers-street, report prices as follows:

CORN-FED.

Live	7¾c. @7¾c.	Dressed	9¾c.

DISTILLERY.

Live	7c.	Dressed	9¾c.

Arrivals more free, and market well supplied. No demand for stock hogs at the present time.

DRY GOODS—The market is unsettled. Jobbers are selling a fair amount of Domestic Cottons and favorite imported goods, more chiefly to dealers from the interior of the State and the Northwestern States, at what they term satisfactory prices. Domestic Woollens are partially neglected and are declining. Importers of foreign fabrics are effecting sales of any magnitude only through the auction rooms, where very poor prices are obtainable, except for really choice articles needed by jobbers to complete their assortments, or to meet the wants of their customers. Most factors are eager to dispose of their supplies, and the effect of this is injurious to the stability of the market. The West and Southwest pay up very tardily. The South is more prompt. Creditors are not satisfied with their experience in this respect, and will not be so accommodating to purchasers for some time to come as they have been during the last six or eight months.

FISH—Dry Cod are in fair demand, and are firm, at $4@$4 12½ ℔ cwt. Pickled Cod, at $7@$8 ℔ bbl. Mackerel are in light supply and good request, at $21@ $23 for large No. 1; $17 50@$19 for small do.; $14 for large No. 2; $16 50@$18 ℔ bbl. for small and medium do.; $3 50@$4 50 for large No 3; and $3@$3 25 for medium do. ℔ bbl. Pickled Salmon, $21@$23 ℔ tc., and $22@ $23 50 ℔ bbl. Shad at $6 50 for Connecticut No 1, and $8 50 for No. 2, ℔ half bbl. Pickled Herrings are plenty and heavy at $4@$4 25 ℔ bbl. Smoked Herrings are in fair supply and demand, at 35c. @40c. for Scaled, and 20c. @25c. for No. 1, ℔ box.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour is brisker and dearer, with sales reported of about 11,200 bbls., in lots, mainly at prices within the annexed range:

Ordinary state	$5 05@$5 75
Straight State	5 75@ 5 85
Extra State	5 85@ 6 00
Common to Good Indiana and Upper Lake	5 85@ 5 25
Common to Good Superfine Ohio	5 70@ 5 90
Fancy Michigan	5 90@ 6 00
Extra Indiana and Michigan	5 90@ 7 50
Extra Ohio	6 00@ 7 75
Fancy Genesee	6 05@ 6 25
Extra Genesee	6 75@ 8 25
Extra Missouri	6 25@ 8 50

Canadian is steadily improving. Superfine Genesee is worth $6@$7 50 ℔ bbl.; 900 bbls. were disposed of within the range. Southern continues in good request, at strengthening prices. The transactions, since our last, comprise about 3,800 bbls. low Mixed to fair Extra, and choice Extra at $5 25@$7 75, and $7 75@$8 50 ℔ bbl. Rye Flour is quiet, yet steady, at $5 50@$6 25 for Fine to superfine, ℔ bbl. Corn Meal is in moderate supply and demand, at $3 25@ $3 ℔ for Jersey, and $3 50@$3 62 for Brandywine, ℔ bbl. The latter brings $17@$17 50 in puncheons.

FRUIT—The demand for Raisins continues quite moderate, and prices are stiffer by addition to-day of 75 boxes of Muscatel Lemons, at $5@$5 15; and 3,000 boxes do. Oranges, at $3 12½@$3 25 ℔ box.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—The recent European news stiffened factors, and these now hold their supplies at prices generally above the limits of buyers. Hence the inactivity in the market.

GRAIN—Wheat is very sparingly offered and is in moderate demand at uniform rates. Sales have been reported of about 6,000 bushels, including good Southern White, at $1 30; Southern White mixed at $1 44; and ordinary Southern Red at $1 30 ℔ bushel. The range for all kinds is from $1 30@$1 65 for White, and $1 26@$1 48 for Red, ℔ bushel. Rye is in request and is steady at from 90c. @92c. ℔ bushel. Barley is worth $1 55@$1 75 for inferior to choice, in bulk, ℔ bushel; being very scarce and in demand. Barley Malt is rare and quoted at $1 65 @$1 85 ℔ bushel. Oats are more inquired for, and firmer at 52c. @57c. for Western; 53½c. @55c. for State; 51c. @55c. for Jersey, and 50c. @51c. for Southern, ℔ bushel. Corn continues in good demand, at strengthening prices. We have heard of sales of about 40,000 bushels at 73c. for old Western mixed, in store; 71c. @72c. for new and old yellow, and 72c. @72c. for new and old White, ℔ bushel. HAIR—South American Mixed, 35c. @36c. ℔ lb.

HAY—About 800 bales River found buyers, mainly at 75c. @80c. for shipment, and 87½c. @91 for local use, ℔ 100 lbs.

HEMP—Rules dull and heavy, as before quoted.

HIDES—Are inactive and drooping. Prime Buenos Ayres, 32c. @32½c.; Rio Grande, 30c.; Orinoco, 33½c.; Maracaibo, 32c. @32½c.; Porto Cabello, 31c. for boxed, and 32c. for open; African, 27½c. @28c.; Dry Western, 30½c. @32c.; do Southern, 31½c. @32c.; and City Slaughter, 11½c. @12½c. ℔ lb. Stock, 68,360, against 54,069 same date last year.

HONEY—Cuba, 31c., in bond, and 97½c @$1, free ℔ gallon.

HOPS—Continue in fair request, at steady rates: 7c @ 11c. for ordinary to prime ℔ lb.

IRON—Is inactive, yet firm, with a very limited supply available, especially of Foreign.

LEAD—Is selling slowly at old figures.

LEATHER—Sole is in rather better request, and is without any further material change. Other descriptions are not offering their supplies, save at prices above the views of most buyers. Sales have been reported since Friday last of 100 hdds. Virginia, Kentucky and Maryville, part at 32c. @36c.; 138 cases Steer Leaf at 42½c. @ 46c.; and 640 hides, Calcutta, 24c. @25c.

WHISKEY—There were 56 bbls. Ohio and Prison purchased at 27c. @27½c. ℔ gallon.

WOOL—Domestic is quiet and nominal. Some inquiry exists for low qualities of foreign at former rates. These are rather scarce. In other kinds of imported Wool the business is general and unimportant.

ZINC—Sheet is dull at 7½c. ℔ lb.

FREIGHTS—Were a little more active, but rates were lagged. For Liverpool—Cotton, ⅝d @ ¾d. ℔ lb.; Flour, 1s. 3d. @1s. 6d. ℔ bbl.; Grain, 4½d. @4¾d. ℔ bushel; Beef, 3s. 3d. @3s. 6d. ℔ tc.; Rosin, 1s. 6d @ 1s. 9d. ℔ bbl., and heavy goods, 35s. @30s. ℔ ton. LIFE PICTURES;

BY ROBERT TURNBULL, D. D.,
Author of "Genius of Scotland," "Christ of History."
1 vol. 12mo. 345 pp. Price $1.

The author's intention has been to develop in a natural, novel way, by means of narratives, conversations of characters, conversations, letters, &c., the Divine or inner life. The characters are real; such as the author has met in his extensive observation and experience, among all classes of persons. Some of them of great intelligence and worth, and others of an inquisitive, skeptical turn, including students, lawyers, merchants, literary characters, mechanics, and others.

Some of the "Life Pictures" are of young men re-clothed from skepticism. These will be found to possess a fascinating interest. Some of the sketches are of children remarkable for their gifts and graces. These of William Bentley, (the baker boy,) and Harvey Miller, one of the noblest men that ever lived, will be hailed with pleasure by all who ever knew them. As it touches upon Harvard University, Theodore Parker, Cambridge and Boston life, it will be read, no doubt, with great interest.

BY GRACIE AMBER,
Author of "Home Pictures," "What Not," "Carrie Hamilton," &c.

The numerous friends of Mrs D. will, we doubt not, heartily welcome this new book from her pen.

Scenery.—The mountain forests of Pastoria are inhabited, it is said, by Fairies, Sprites and Elves, who, like the Phantom Dwarfs of Germany, delight to entrap travelers into their realms and torment them with their mischievous antics. Having the power of transforming the spirit, they often, in their malicious sports, give life to the newly dead. Statues, rocks and trees are seen fantastically moving in the forest, but it is only during the DAY they retain their human existence; at the approach of night they resume their inanimability.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE GALENA AND CHICAGO UNION RAILROAD COMPANY.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad Company passed the following resolution on the 24th inst:

Resolved, That the bal

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Present home of General WASHINGTON is threatened by the brief telegraph summary of the Tennessee, published in this morning's issue. It will be best that our advices, previously received by the George Law, are confirmed in the most favorable auspices, would have been regarded with distrust and apprehension. Experience teaches us to be on our guard against hasty conclusions, drawn from the position at Beaufort, or with the force under his command, on the contrary, during the important operations supposed to be in the hands of Gen. LOCKRIDGE. We have repeatedly expressed our opinion that the position at the mouth of the Sen Jean River in the whole of the Gosta Rican, Wheeler occupation was moved to this step by Gen. King, judged by his action, seems to have given not the slightest weight.

The conviction that the City Police has been a tool in the hands of politicians,—that instead of being organized, governed, and directed with exclusive regard to the preservation of the peace and public order, it has been the weapon by which party politicians have conducted or perpetuated their power, has recently been demonstrated in the bill providing regulations for the State and Constable Institution, which passed the Senate and Assembly, and which is now in the Hands of the Governor of New-York. The bill making appropriations for the Assembly's expenditures for the ensuing year, was also passed, and is now in the hands of the Governor for his signature, and it was passed without his signature, and it was passed without the Governor's approval, and the Committee of Conference was appointed. The Assembly refused to concur in the Senate's amendments to the Central Park bill, and a Committee of Conference was also appointed. The Assembly refused to concur in the Senate's amendments to the Metropolitan Police bill, and a Committee of Conference was also appointed. The Senate concurred in the Assembly's amendments to the bill regulating the Police Commission act.

The Metropolitan has been officially notified by the Governor of the failure of Lieut. Gov. HOFFMAN to qualify with the Government of New-York, and the Governor has transmitted to the Legislature the required documents, and the Senate organized in the conclusion of the Lieutenant Gov. Hoffman's failure to qualify, and the Senate will be under the Governor's control for the ensuing year.

Our Foreign Intelligence in the Legislature and Congress from Europe will be found very interesting. The Commercial Intelligence is very full and complete, and the Commercial Intelligence is very full and complete, and the Commercial Intelligence is very full and complete.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, a man named Hermann, a German, was tried, and found guilty of the charge of grand larceny, in the second degree, was sentenced to the State Prison for a term of two years and six months. The prisoner was a German, and was sent to the Penitentiary by the Court, and was sent to the Penitentiary, and was sent to the Penitentiary.

[illegible] New-York Bills—Committee
[illegible] the Harbor Regulations

[illegible], &c.

[illegible] of the New-York Daily Times.

ALBANY, Wednesday, April 15, 1857.

[illegible] days and, hereafter, all but the clerks of the Legislature are on short allowance. The clerks at it [illegible] to-night. And yet there is no [illegible] of this sort of legislation. The current [illegible] more rapidly than ever through the arteries, and [illegible] a new movement, perfected, so [illegible] Assembly may perfect anything, [illegible] as the unknown marble.

[illegible] of adjournment, but there prevails [illegible] that admits certainty of belief [illegible] o'clock we shall be mustered to [illegible] of the State.

[illegible] New-York bills are now in such [illegible] that they cannot easily be de-[illegible] Central Park bill has passed both Houses. [illegible] bill, is through the Assembly and to [illegible] the Senate. The City Hall bill was [illegible] a third reading in the Senate, but was re-[illegible] back to the Committee for the purpose of law [illegible] amendments. There are to be added [illegible] amendments. I suppose it will be reported this [illegible] morrow.

[illegible] bill is a foot-ball kicked between the [illegible]. Now it is up and now it is down, much [illegible] the action of a dancing Jack. It passed the House last evening, after an exciting contest—but [illegible] amended—so much indeed as that it could [illegible] be recognized by its most intimate friends. [illegible] those amendments the Senate gave its [illegible], many of them were rejected with [illegible]. A conference committee and a [illegible] will be the result, in all probability.

The Interior Water Line bill was ordered to a third reading in the House last evening, but the negatives [illegible] that was generally anticipated. [illegible] in the House is very full when it comes up, it [illegible].

The providing Port Regulations for the [illegible] of New-York, was passed through the Senate. [illegible] to amend a very proper and legitimate [illegible]. When it reached the House, the Com-[illegible] on Commerce struck from it two sections plac-[illegible] Masters and Port Wardens under the [illegible] of the Commissioners of Pilots—an irresponsi-[illegible] appointed by the Chamber of Commerce [illegible] Board of Underwriters. The bill also con-[illegible] giving to each Commissioner from [illegible] company, a salary of $2,500 a year—in all [illegible]. This section is the knob of the entire [illegible] the other provisions now exist on the [illegible] by the right of municipal regula-[illegible]. In other words, it is a very quiet way of pro-[illegible] four old gentlemen with snug berths and good [illegible]. After all, I do not know as we ought to ob-[illegible] especially as in no other way can they be [illegible] and perhaps charity demands the sacrifice from the State [illegible]. But the Senate insists on having in the [illegible] sections rejected by the House, and has sent [illegible] bill with the objectionable features reinstated. It is supposed the House will recede.

[illegible] bill is the special order in the House [illegible] at 4 o'clock. It will probably absorb [illegible] of that establishment for the re-[illegible] of the day.

[illegible] Church hangs by the eye-lids for the Gene-[illegible] of the House. Several attempts have been [illegible], but they have been thus far un-[illegible]. How long the opponents can hold it, is a [illegible] problem. Perhaps they may endure to the [illegible]. There has been a change made in the Port Ward-[illegible] Masters. The name of JOHN FEIND [illegible] a nominee for Port Warden was withdrawn, and [illegible] substituted.

[illegible] of Mr. SMITH, who had been named for a [illegible], the name of JOHN COOPER, was [illegible].

The Senate enters Executive Session at 4 o'clock, [illegible] to consider the nominations made yesterday [illegible] with the nominations for Canal Appraiser, which will no doubt be forwarded to-day. There has [illegible] a little over the average amount of profanity ex-[illegible] by the disappointed, but the anger seems [illegible] to subside. The "swearing train" went off [illegible], heavily loaded. It left a blue wake, but [illegible] is probably traceable to the gates evolved.

The Senate concurred in the Assembly amend-ments to the bill repealing the Railroad Commission-ers' law.

ASSEMBLY.....ALBANY, Wednesday, April 15.

There is no prospect of the Legislature adjourn-ing [illegible].

[illegible] moved to suspend the third reading of [illegible] Committee of the Whole on the [illegible] reported from the Committee on [illegible] Dred Scott Decision. Motion lost.

[illegible] Committee of the Whole, Mr. [illegible] reported the following: Rev. Henry W. Bellows, of the Church of All Souls, in this City, having accepted an invitation to speak at the ap-proaching Burns's Festival dinner, in defence of the stage, we understand Mrs. KEMBLE has written him a letter expressing opinion such a course, and pronouncing the usual influence of the stage evil, and only evil. Mr. KEMBLE speaks kind compliments; but what a declaration from the family who owe so much to the histrionic profession!

The State Register, of last evening, states that Mr. BOKUM has offered his place for sale, and that as soon as he has disposed of this country seat and his other real estate, he will depart for Germany, as the late events have completely destroyed his nervous system. Police Captains and their Politics.

NEW-YORK, Monday, April 13, 1857.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

SIR: You do such injustice to Captain DILKS, of the Fifteenth Ward, in to-day's TIMES, that I feel constrained as a resident of the Ward to make a few corrections. First, Captain DILKS has never be-longed to the American Party, nor has he had a "leaning" that way. On the dissolution of the Whig Party, with which he formerly voted, in 1855, he joined the Republican Party, and since then has always openly been a Republican, although, of course, as a Captain of Police under the present administra-tion, he could not do much service on that side of the house.

Secondly, Captain DILKS did not exhibit affidavits that last Fall he "stood by" his honor. He certainly did "stand by" his own honor, but did not "stand by" His Honor the Mayor. Last Fall, when the Po-lice were obliged to carry the Democratic Primaries, Captain DILKS and some others were left out of the bargain. I was with him during that afternoon, and we both were merely lookers on how the Fourth Ward Police and the Fourteenth Ward Democracy "put through" the Wood ticket in our Ward. Capt. D. was reappointed because FERNANDO WOOD did not dare to cost him, his "papers" having names on them not exceeded in influence even by the famous "merchant's circular" which the Mayor and Captain WILEY got up last Fall. Besides there was only two applicants, JOHN VANDERVOOL, formerly President of the Fifteenth Ward Know-Nothing Council, and now a good "Democrat," and WILLIAM HILLIARD, formerly a Whig. HILLIARD promised his friends that he would call the roll in the Fifteenth Ward Station-house, on Friday afternoon, but I have not heard of his doing it as yet. All the officers in the Ward are Americans or Republicans, with the ex-ception of a very few Democrats, whom FERNANDO wisely keeps "detailed," lest they might be con-verted.

Thirdly, I can say on good authority that it is not true that Capt. DILKS gave an entertainment at Delmonico's to some of his brother Captains, "including Captains WEBBS and MARSHFIELD, at which Mayor WOOD's health was frequently drank." The state-ment must have originated in the fertile brain of your informant, as no entertainment was given.

It may interest your readers to know to what party the various Captains of Police belong. The Captains of the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Seven-teenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-second Wards are all "good Democrats." Captains HOPKINS of the Third, FORRER of the Twelfth and DILKS of the Fifteenth Ward, have been open Republicans, and Capt. SQUIRES of the Eleventh Ward, has always leaned that way. Capt. CARPEN-TER of the Fifth was a Buchanite last Fall, and went so far as to threaten that FREMONT "should not have a ticket in the Ward." Since the probable passage of the Police bill, I understand he has become a Republi-can. Capt. TURNBULL, of the Eighth, was a Fillmore-ite, though it is said he voted for FREMONT. He, too, is now a strong Republican. Capt. SCHMIDT, of the Twenty-first Ward, was formerly a Whig and last Fall a Fillmoreite. What he is now I cannot say. Of the recently decapitated Captains, HAYES and BUSHEE were Democrats; but the latter never supported WOOD in an energetic manner, or rather worked against him. Hence his removal. Capt. HART was formerly a Whig. He has been "holding over" since January, 1856. A VERY BLACK REPUBLICAN.

The Turf for 1857.

The Spring campaign of Trotting has com-menced with trotting over the Union and Red-House Courses. The prospect for sports of the turf, from all appearances, is such as to warrant the assertion that they will have interesting meetings on Long Island. The character of the assemblages for the past few years has been depreciating. The cause is obvious enough. The trotting courses had fallen under the control of men who made use of them to subserve their own private and pecuniary ends, and from the unfair practices of these men, many were deterred from attending the course through fear of being fleeced; and many owners of fast horses would not allow them to appear on the turf. One reason for this was, probably, the want of a law legalizing trotting, the old law having expired some years ago, and the proprietors being unable to enforce proper regula-tions. But with the passage of the new law, a differ-ent state of things may exist.

Several Southern stables will arrive here in June to contend for purses and stakes that will be given by the proprietors of the Fashion Course for racing horses. Numbers of trotting horses are already in training on Long Island, among which may be enu-merated many first-class horses, with some that are entirely new to the turf. Great improvements and unusual preparations are making on the Fashion, Union, Centreville and Red House Courses, in order to insure every advantage that can be derived from a course under such circumstances.

UNION COURSE, L. I.—Trotting, Wednesday, April 15.—Match, $1,000—mile heats; best 3 in 5, to wagons, and drivers weighing 300 lbs.

J. WHELPLEY's s. s. William Tell 2 2 2

Messenger won the race in three straight heats. There were a great many reports flying around, to the effect that Messenger was lame. This made Tell the favorite—$100 to $60. Messenger won the pole. After two or three scorings the word was given, and they dashed off at a tremendous gait. Messenger led to the quarter-pole in 41¾ seconds, gaining at every stride. He trotted very finely, and won the race easily.

The Track was very heavy on account of the rain.

The Target Parade.

The Colonels of the great target force, which is to parade next Monday, had a meeting last night, to complete their organization. They estimate that from 10,000 to 11,000 will turn out at the parade. HENRY WILSON is their General-in-Chief. The main line will be formed on Fourteenth-street, under Adjutant-General W. H. DENNISON, and Major-Generals WILSON and CRESSINGTON. All companies from Brooklyn, Wil-liamsburg, Jersey City, Sing Sing, Philadelphia, and all other cities, who will participate in the parade and visiting companies, will be formed in an independent division on Washington square, under command of Inspector-General SAMUEL G. THOMPSON and aids, and escorted by such companies as the Commander-in-Chief shall detail from the City organization for that purpose, to the extreme right of the line. The line of march will be through Broadway, the Park, Chatham-street, East Broadway, Grand-street and the Bowery.

NAVAL GUNNERY.—The fine sloop of war Plymouth, now at the Navy Yard, Washington, is to be fitted out for gunnery practice, and for this pur-pose an appropriation of forty thousand dollars was made at the late session. The experiments in ord-nance are to be under the direction of Lieut. DAHL-GREN, an officer of great skill in naval gunnery.

[illegible] Navy.

Orders have been received at the Navy Yard to have the steam frigate Mississippi, now ready, installed ready for the Rare Indies. She will, consequently, not be employed, as contemplated, as a serving to the Niagara in laying the telegraphic cable. She will be ready by the 15th of May. The steam frigate Pen-hetan, now lying at the Philadelphia Yard, it is sup-posed, will be detailed for that service, if it is found possible to get her ready in time. The new steam-frigate Minnesota, also lying at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, has also been ordered to be got ready immedi-ately to take out the newly appointed minister to China.

The steam-propeller Dispatch is having two new tubular boilers of MARTIN's make, put on board; she will probably be employed as a transport to convey provisions, &c., to the Southern Naval Stations.

The filling in of the Wallabout flats is progressing rapidly, and the work of laying the foundations for the buildings will soon be commenced.

Captain HUNSON of the Niagara, was yesterday summoned to Washington, with Surgeon SHIRK of this same ship, to give their testimony before the Court of Inquiry in the case of Captains OSBORN and GRIFFIN, and, if they should not be able to return in season, it will prevent the ship from going to sea on Saturday. The Wabash was to leave to-day on a cruise as the flag-ship of the Home Squadron, under the command of Captain PAULDING.

OUR EAST INDIA SQUADRON.—The reinforce-ment which is fitting out, as we learn, for our naval force in the China Seas, will consist of some of the most powerful ships in the world. Amongst others, the frigate Minnesota, one of the six new steamers, has been designated. In view of the importance and distant theatre of service, we cannot but express our pleasure at this selection of the Minnesota, because the noble ship herself and her substantial machinery were built at the Washington Navy Yard. In this fact we have a guarantee that, when the Minnesota goes to sea, we shall not hear the almost invariable cry of broken machinery or of the ship having put back or into some port to repair damage. The immense bat-tery of the Colorado, another of the new steamers, is to be transferred, it is said, to the Minnesota at Nor-folk; and it is further stated that Mr. REED, our new Minister to China, will take passage in this magnifi-cent ship.—National Intelligencer.

The United States sloop-of-war Falmouth, from New-York, 42 days from Rio Janeiro, was spoken (date not reported) in lat. 0.45 S., lon. 24.40 W.

The Naval Force for the China Seas, &c.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 14.

The Navy Department, as well as the War Depart-ment, is unusually active. It is getting up a squadron for the China seas, and, barring any more bursting out of cylinder-heads, a respectable naval force, under the command of Commodore PERRY, may soon be equipped for this important service. As Mr. REED, our Envoy, is to have the choice of a ship for his con-veyance to China, he will, perhaps, take the Minnesota. It is to be borne in mind that he will find no accommodations for his residence in China so good or so safe as those which he will find on shipboard. Lord ELGIN will reside at Hong Kong, an English colony, but Mr. REED would not reside there, except as the guest of the English. He could live at Macao, but not without the assent of the Chinese and of the Portuguese also.

The factories at Canton are all destroyed, and it is possible that if the war continues the English will be driven from Hong Kong. The report that the "Son of Heaven" had censured the acts of his Governor of Canton, YEH, is likely to be true, for the Chinese cen-sured were disgraced officers who were so unfortunate as not to be able to chastise the barbarians, but it is not at all probable that he has disproved of the seizure of the Arrow. The war with the British had served to bring a large portion of the rebels over to his support. BON.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Is, no doubt, the best preparation of the age for all purposes, for it will restore, permanently, gray hair to its original color, cover the head of the bald with a good hair growth, remove at once all dandruff and itching, cure all scrofula, and other cutaneous eruptions, such as scald head, &c. It will stay, as if by magic, nervous or pe-culiar headaches, make the hair soft, glossy, and wavy, and preserve the color perfectly, and the hair from falling, to extreme old age.

The following is from a distinguished member of the medical profession:

ST. PAUL, Jan. 1, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Unsolicited, I send you this certificate. After being nearly bald for a long time and having tried all the hair restoratives out-rank and having no faith in any, I was induced, on beg-ging of young to give it a trial. I placed myself in the hands of a barber, and had my head rubbed with a good stiff brush, and the Restorative then applied and well rubbed in, till the scalp was a glow. This I repeated every morning, and in three weeks the young hair appeared and grew rapidly from August last till the present time, and is now thick, black and strong—soft and pleasant to the touch; whereas, before it was harsh and wiry, and thin there was of it, and that little was discoloured very ug-ly. I still use your Restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now, I had read of these things—and who has not? but have not seen hitherto any case where any person's hair was really benefited by any of the hair tonics, etc., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my ex-perience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and general sale throughout the Territory. The people have known its effects, and have confidence in it. The supply you sent us, as whole-sale agents for the Territory, is nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are made for it. You deserve credit for your discovery; and I, for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despaired long ago of ever effecting any such result.

Yours, hastily,
J. W. BOND,
Firm of Bond & Kelley, Druggists, St. Paul.

From the Editor of the Rural Switch Advertiser.

BOSTON, No. 27 School-st., March 20, 1856.

DEAR SIR: Having become prematurely quite gray, I was induced, some six weeks since, to make a trial of your Restorative. I have used two bottles, and some of the gray hairs have all disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the pro-cess of change is gradually going on, and I anticipate from this in a short time my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which before was harsh and dry; and it has ceased to come out as for-merly.

Respectfully yours,
E. C. M. REPP.

Professor WOOD.

CARLYLE, Ill., June 18, 1855.

I have used Professor WOOD's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was becom-ing, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt, permanently so.

J. R. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR.—WE COPY the following from the editorial columns of the Boston Daily Ledger, of Feb. 19, 1857. Mr. Barnard, the gentleman alluded to, is a prominent citizen of Boston:

J. R. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR.—In the multitude of curatives that are almost daily offered to the public, it is very difficult to make a selection of any one that will prove valuable for all the purposes for which it is recommended. But in most positive cases specific has been discovered for complaints of the Throat and Lungs that seems to be of inestimable worth. It is J. R. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR. From a pamphlet setting forth its many claims of those inflicted with the diseases above named, we learn that this Remedy is not to be taken internally, after the ordinary methods, but is used by INHALATION and APPLICATION. In this subtle way it performs its soothing and healing offices on the THROAT, LUNGS, NERVES, MUSCLES, JOINTS, and SKIN. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR, it is claimed, contains an electro magnetic power, which is instrumental in restoring to the system its lost VITALITY; and this is performed alike by the inhalation of its odor, and the outward application of its fluid. Several of our Physicians often employ it for SPECIAL INHALATION, and its curative properties they well understand. We know of many cures it has performed in cases of Bronchitis, Difficulties in Coughs, Colds, and complaints of a similar character, and we are able to give it our full recommendation.

"We are informed by our townsman, John M. Barnard, Esq., that during a fit of sickness last Winter, he had occasion to make use of the OLIVE TAR, and found it even more efficacious than he had ventured to expect. He caused about three table spoonfuls to be placed in a saucer over a basin of boiling water, heated by a night-lamp, and found that its odor was not only a real DISINFECTANT of the sick room, but a most pleasant [illegible] of the irritation of his Throat and Lungs. [illegible] health, and how used the [illegible] volatile odor is of great [illegible] of his house both [illegible] fully verified by Testimonials from the following well-known persons:

THURLOW WEED, Esq., Albany.
WM. B. TOWNSEND, Esq., Staten Island.
ISAAC N. FOWLER, Esq., New York.
Dr. EDWARD BERGER, Esq., New-York.
CHARLES VAN WYCK, Esq., New-York.
Rev. Dr. LEONARD BACON, Hartford, Ct.
Gen. DUFF GREEN, Washington, D. C.
Hon. ELI COOK, Buffalo, N. Y.
A. B. PARNEY, Esq., Cleveland, Ohio.
JOHN F. WARNER, Esq., Chicago, Ill.

And of many others equally prominent.

J. R. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR is sold at 50 cents a bottle, by the STAFFORD OLIVE TAR COMPANY, No. 16 State-st., (East side Battery,) New-York, and by all druggists.

RHEUMATIC, NEURALGIC, AND ALL other pains cease when J. R. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR is applied, because OLIVE TAR contains electro-magnetism, which it transmits to the body, increasing its VITALITY.

These assertions are verified by testimonials from JOSEPH L. LORD, Esq., No. 11 Wall-st., New-York.
ROBERT B. COLEMAN, Esq., Astor House.
SIMEON DRAPER, Esq., cor. Pine and William-sts.
Capt. HENRY RUSSELL, No. 56 South-st., New York.
EDWIN R. YALE, Esq., Mansion House, Brooklyn.
Gen. THOMAS J. GREEN, Texas.
Gen. W. CAZENEAU, Texas.

And from many others who are equally well known to the public.

OLIVE TAR is sold at 50 cents a bottle, by the STAFFORD OLIVE TAR COMPANY, No. 16 State-st., (East side of Battery,)

And by all druggists.

NEW-YORK CITY.

United Agricultural Society.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Society was held yesterday, at the Astor House, and the premiums for the Summer trial of reapers, mowers, and the grand exhibition in Philadelphia, 1857, were completed. Hon. Ramsey, of Ohio, New-York, formerly President of the New-York State Society, was added to the Committee.

It was found, on reference to the appointments for the reaping trials of the great Western States, that the United States Society could not hold their trials at that season of the country, as they had at first thought to do, without conflicting with the arrangements of the local Societies; and they have, therefore, selected this State as the next best locality; or, if this should not be found practicable, will go to Delaware.

Mr. Forney M. Husman, of Ohio, has been engaged to superintend the two trials and carry out the details.

The Society have decided to offer a Gold Medal of Honor for articles of the greatest importance to the farmer; one for the machine which shall, in the most complete manner, and with the greatest saving of time and labor, exhibit the disintegration of the ears of the wheat; another for the best motive power for farm use; another for the most important invention relating to Agriculture, patented within the last two years.

A gold medal, valued at $175, will be awarded to the successful machines at the Reaper and Mower trial.

The United States Society intend that their decision on the merits of any machine or improvement offered at their Fair shall be made under every safeguard as to competency of judges, fair trial of qualities and entire impartiality. All applications for entry at either trial should be made to H. S. OLCOTT, who is Secretary of the Committee, and will forward a list of regulations and premiums to applicants. His address is Assistant Institute, New-York City.

On motion of Commissioner NEILSON the rules were suspended, and the Board entered into an election to fill four vacancies in the Finance Committee. Messrs. Albert Smith and Nelson J. Waterbury were elected by a handsome vote on the first ballot; Richard C. Bullows was elected on the second ballot, and Mr. George H. Clark on the third ballot.

A resolution offered by Mr. HOOPER, of the Finance Committee, was adopted, appropriating for various purposes $102,648 14.

The sum of $150 was appropriated for extra work on School House No. 8, on Mott-street.

Some other unimportant business was passed upon, and the Board adjourned.

[illegible] Legislature, appointing a Commissioner to examine into the existing condition and working of our City School system.

The following sections of the proposed bill were read by the Clerk:

SEC. 1. The Governor of the State of New-York shall appoint five residents of the City of New-York as Commissioners to examine the School system of that City. It shall be the duty of such Commission to visit each of the institutions for public instruction in that City, as they may deem necessary, to confer with the Board of Education, the Boards of Trustees in the several Wards, and the other officers connected with the School system, or such of them as may request such conference, and also with other parties desiring to make suggestions in relation to the matter; and to thoroughly examine the organization and operation of the system of public education in that City. And the said Commission shall make a written report to the Governor, previous to the 1st day of January next, upon the matters aforesaid, and annex to such a report a draft of a bill making such changes and improvements in the laws relative to public education in that City, as they may considered advisable.

SEC. 2. Neither of the said Commissioners shall receive any compensation for his services but the necessary and reasonable expenses of the said commission shall be paid by the Board of Education out of the School moneys of said City.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

After which, on motion of Mr. WHITE, the Board adjourned.

Board of Councilmen.

The Board of Councilmen met on Wednesday, the President, J. N. PHILLIPS, Esq., in the Chair.

A resolution was passed to print 10,000 copies of the New Charter. Another directing the Street Commissioner to advertise for proposals for the completion of the Battery enlargement, was referred to the Committee on Wharves.

It was resolved to hoist the City flags on the day of the forthcoming parade of the target companies of the City, April 20.

Councilmen BOOTH submitted, that,

WHEREAS, The State Legislature has passed an act amending the Charter under which certain departments of the City Government are abolished, and their powers distributed among other departments; and whereas, it will be necessary to frame a number of ordinances for those departments which have increased powers; therefore be it

Resolved, That a special Committee of five be appointed to consider and report what ordinances will be necessary, and what powers and duties shall be designated for them.

Adopted.

A resolution to increase the pay of members, was proposed by Councilman WEMPLE. It states, that public opinion labors under the impression that the members are in receipt of $4 per day the year through, together with pay for services on Committees, "instead" of $364 00 per annum Forty Eight nothings, at Four Dolls each—& at times of four & five hours duration.

A resolution for Committee services, whereas, Whereas be it resolved that the members of the standing committees of the board of aldermen and councilmen be allowed and paid for their services the sum of $4 for each meeting, to take effect on & from the 1st of Janry. 1857.

This resolution is copied accurately.

Referred to a Committee of the Whole.

A petition for the extension of Leonard-street was referred. So also was a resolution for a special Committee relative to the expediency of selling Washington and Franklin markets.

Petitions were received against the proposed widening of Frankfort-street; for a sewer in Jones-street through to Sixth-avenue; also from the Catholic Orphan Asylum, asking that the demised premises now occupied by the Asylum may be leased anew to the petitioners, to be used for the purposes for which they were incorporated.

A resolution was referred, the object of which was to raise the salary of the Street Commissioner to $5,000, and that of the Deputy to $2,500.

A resolution was proposed requesting the Mayor to offer a reward of $1,000 for the discovery and arrest of the murderers of Stephen P. Hardenbrook, the Policeman who was killed in an affray with burglars in West-street. Various amendments were made. Councilman McCABILL wished to substitute $500, and was more than usually energetic. A member proposed the substitution of $2,000. After long and rather discursive discussion, the original resolution was adopted [illegible]

The parties having proposals there are indignant, because the Comptroller will not attend that they may be opened. His reason for refusing can hardly be looked upon as a bad one by citizens generally. The Comptroller says as soon as the new charter goes into operation, it will seriously affect any contract made at this time; and therefore to prevent suits for damages, for non-acceptance of work contracted for, he thinks it best to "wait a little longer." The principal jobs for which proposals have been received are: For building a Stable-house for the Fifteenth Ward Police; rebuilding the Eleventh Ward Station house; making additions to and alterations of the Hall of Records; building and repairing engine houses; altering two bell towers and putting up the fire telegraph in the two upper Districts of the City.

Seamen's Churches.

Floating Bethels will do where there is no convenient locality on the land for a church for seamen; but sailors after all are very much like other people, and prefer, when not at sea, to be ashore. When they go to meeting they like to do as other people do, and worship with a good steady foundation under them.

The Marineers' Church, at the corner of Madison and Catharine streets, under the pastoral care of Rev. CHARLES J. JONES, which formerly belonged to the M. E. Church, was purchased by "the Society for Promoting the Gospel among Seamen in the port of New-York," for $40,000 of which sum $26,000 has been paid, leaving a debt of $14,000, which the Society are now endeavoring to raise to relieve their embarrassments. There is a flourishing Sabbath school and Bible class, a reading-room, a temperance society numbering 20,000 members (hope they are all good ones) connected with the Society. Norwegian and Swedish missionaries are employed by the Society, and services in the Scandinavian tongues are held in the church.

The affairs of the Society are under the supervision of a Board of Directors representing all the different leading sects.

☞ At the quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, held Tuesday evening, the 14th inst., at their rooms No. 6 Stuyvesant, the surgeons, Drs. STREETER and GANZIN, reported that they had registered 328 patients afflicted with diseases of the eye since the 1st of January, last, making 5,000 patients who have received the services of the surgeons since the organization of the Institution in April, 1855.

THE NEW-YORK FIVE POINTS.—What a world of wickedness has been enacted here! What untold sin and suffering committed and endured! Who has not shuddered at the recital of high crimes perpetrated at the New-York Five Points? It has been a nest for drunkards, thieves, robbers, murderers and pirates—a hiding place for gamblers and bad women—in short, the very worst place on this Continent. To-day's Life's Illustrated gives some interesting facts connected with this notorious place. Only four cents. Newsmen have it.

LONG ISLAND.

Spring Floral Exhibition.

The regular Spring Exhibition of the Brooklyn Horticultural Society is now in progress at the Athenæum, on the corner of Atlantic and Clinton streets. The tables were spread yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the inspection of the judges who urged the performance, and the doors were open to the public at 8. A brilliant concourse of visitors, consisting principally of ladies, who often convey even the best flowers unscathed through the hail last evening, [illegible] owners; yet the Exhibition was well stocked, and did not suffer from the lack of them. The great majority of specimens, as is usual at this time of the year, are of stove and green-house plants. The most prominent of these are, of course, the indispensable camelias. Nothing on the fifteen ample tables in the hall contributes so much to enliven the scene of the exhibition as the splendid bloom of the Camelia, which, in almost every floral display in the Spring, is the strongest light in the picture.

The cut flowers are not so numerous as they have been on former occasions, in the display by this Society. For these, the main reliance of the Committee of Arrangement is on practical florists rather than amateurs; and the florists say that there has been an unusual sale during the past winter for buds and boquets, by which their plants have been kept closely shorn. Mr. BIGAS, however, exhibits his periodical novelty of Camelias, in the way of six new seedlings, beautiful specimens, which attract the eye of every passer-by. We have not heard whether he charged for each of these, as for a new seedling exhibited by him last year, the trifling sum of one thousand dollars!

The collection of Ericas, or heaths, embraces many beautiful and delicate varieties, of various hues and sizes. Some of these tiny waxen blooms have been most exquisitely brought out.

The table of pelargoniums makes the usual display, although many of the specimens catalogued exhibit a pleasing vigor and freshness.

The roses occupy a side-room by themselves. The specimens are in fine condition, and creditable to the growers. The varieties presented are not great in number, although they embrace some of the best tribes of the "queen of flowers." We noticed particularly the Souvenir de Malmaison; the Augusta; the Mrs. Boursault; the Lamarque, with its magnificent tulip-shaped flower; the Sydonia; several representatives of the Bourbon clan, including Paul Ricaute and Paxton; and others, of the hues both of the houses Lancaster and of York, and others between and intermixed.

The Geraniums, the pet plant of the boudoir, and an inmate of almost every civilized household, were neither few in number nor ordinary in quality. The Fuchsias furnished "ladies' ear-drops" enough to bejewel a congregation of women. The Ivorea, the Araucaria Excelsa, or Norfolk Island Pine; Dracæna Terminalis, with a finely colored blood-leaf; the Arumpicta, with leaf variegated; a single Phajus Wallichia, a species of air-plant; the Aphelandria Lucepolis, whose leaves are green, with white stripes, resembling somewhat a zebra's skin.

In addition to the above, several tall orange trees, with blossom and fruit on the same boughs, send out an easily-distinguished fragrance among the odors of many flowers. A few flowers of the Trailing Arbutus are shown, whose fragrance is hardly less delightful than that of the orange blossom. A specimen of Dunkannia spectabilis, in excellent condition, is esteemed a favorite by some. A new Verbena, a desirable variety, is exhibited, which is highly creditable to the "author." It has been christened "Imperatrice Elizabeth." They were as bright and haughty as in their native Malabar. The name of this beautiful flower is derived from an East Indian goddess, "Hora," whose altars are usually decorated with it. The table of Cinnerarias was a creditable collection, although the flower is too common a one to excite much attention.

Among the single specimens of plants the most attractive were the following:—Two or three orchids, or air-plants, furnished by our occasional friend, Mr. W. E. Burnett; the Lycaste Skinneri Splendens, shining like a battalion of bayonets; the Aphelandra Superbissima, which is not unlike what Jersey ladies call the "bachelor's button;" two magnificent Melaleucas; a Dendrobium Chrysotoxum, a Dendrobium Speciosum; among the finest in the Amaryllis the Amaryllis Longiflorum in most exhibitable bloom. Two specimens of Stilbergia are shown, having a cactus-like flower, and resembling in shape and size and hue a red wing-feather of some tropical bird.

The Exhibition closes this evening.

Charter Election—The Result.

The result of the Charter election in Jersey City on Tuesday was the election of the candidates on the Democratic tickets throughout, City and Ward. The Republicans and Americans did not work cordially together—having no platform of principles formed to materially accept and unite upon; and, although combined possessing a majority of at least 1,000 votes, they were dissatisfied and distracted by local issues, and allowed the Democrats to sweep the city by large majorities.

SAMUEL WESTCOTT, Democrat, was elected over ALEX. H. WALLIS, Union candidate, by a majority of 504.

All of the Democratic Aldermen nominated through the city were elected, viz:

First Ward—Robert B. Kashow and Wm. Voorhees for two years, and Daniel S. Sinclair for one year.

Second Ward—Matthew Erwin and Augustus A. Hardenbergh for two years.

Third Ward—Charles M. Hankins and Joseph M. Brown for two years; Martin L. Baum and Richard Cornelison, for one year.

Fourth Ward—Melanchthon S. Wickware and Wm. Roosevelt for two years.

WM. FRESHALL and CHARLES FISK were elected Water Commissioners; WALTER VANDERVEER, Collector; ABRAHAM S. JEWELL, School Superintendent, and JOSHUA YOUNG and SILAS MEAD Assessors.

The only exception to a clean sweep in the election of HENRY FRENCH as Chosen Freeholder from the Second Ward by a majority of one vote.

WEDNESDAY, April 15—P. M.

The Street demand for Money to-day was generally light, and the supply offered on temporary use quite free. Discounts outside of Bank, also, tend to greater ease, and strictly prime lists of paper are wanted at 8¼@9 ₩ cent. A few closing transactions in Sterling for the Asia's mail early in the forenoon were made at 109¼@¼. The exact amount of Bullion sent forward is $322,382. The Sub-Treasury reduced its balance to day $94,680. The receipts were $134,211; the payments $228,891. Balance at the close $15,016,580. From this date forward to the 30th June the proportion of Foreign Imports at this port going into Bond to await the action of the new tariff will rapidly increase, and the Cash duties paid into the Sub-Treasury correspondingly fall off. Under the Ericsson's news from England to the 1st April, the Cotton and Corn markets were both firm to day. The first symptoms of reaction in the Grain trade at Liverpool will be warmly welcomed by the West. If the improvement continues it will be of vast service to the Railway traffic in many directions. The English Funds improved on the Election results and the official report on the Government revenue for the past year. Consols were called 89¾@¾ at the close on the 31st March. The French Bank is rapidly gaining in Bullion. The total is now $46,000,000, a gain of three and a half millions of dollars in the last night. The Bank has given notice that after the 30 April only four-tenths ₩ cent, instead of six-tenths premium will be paid for Gold, and after the reserve in the Bank shall reach $60,000,000, or three hundred million francs, artificial purchases are to be entirely discontinued. The quotations by this arrival of American Funds in London are not materially varied from the last regular mail. Illinois Centrals are called 33 to 35 premium, and the Bonds 90 to 92 ₩ cent.

There is an improved tone in the Stock Market, and although some heavy parcels of one or two of the leading Road shares were pressed on sale, buyers operated with a good deal of confidence, and prices at the close in the afternoon left off firm. This was particularly the case with New-York Central, after 5,000 or 6,000 shares had been sold through the day at 88@⅛; and Reading, of which 4,000 or 5,000 shares were taken after the official list was printed, at 80¼ ₩ cent. Toledo left off 73¾ ₩ cent. New-York and Erie sold in the afternoon, ex-dividend, at 48@47⅞ ₩ cent., equal to about 52¾@¾ before the dividend, counting the 10 shares Scrip to be divided to each 100 shares Stock as worth 4.80@4.75 ₩ cent. cash. Panama improved 1 ₩ cent. Michigan Southern, Galena and Chicago, Illinois Central, and Rock Island steady. Erie Convertibles of '62 advanced to 82½ ₩ cent., and the '71s to 77¾ ₩ cent. Illinois Central Bonds a fraction lower. Large sales of Missouri State Sixes at 84.

The Fulton Bank has declared a half-yearly dividend of 5 ₩ cent.; the New-Jersey Central Company a half-yearly dividend of 3½ ₩ cent.; each payable on the 1st of May.

The Money reports from Boston and Philadelphia are in favor of increased ease in rates. The Boston Banks have recently strengthened themselves with Specie. They are lending on call at 6 ₩ cent. In the Street prime paper is scarce, at from 7@10 ₩ cent. Exchange on this City is again in our favor—New-York funds being scarce.

The failure of GREEN & Co., of Paris, is thus referred to in the London papers. It is probable the inconvenience to American travelers on the Continent from the failure is exaggerated. The house has not enjoyed a first-rate credit for some time past.

Paris letters mention the suspension of Messrs. GREEN & Co., American bankers, in that capital. The cause of this failure is attributed to imprudent advances made on French merchandise dispatched to Nicaragua and other Central or South American States. The liabilities are not exactly known, but they are heavy. Much inconvenience will be experienced by American travelers on the continent who are provided with letters of credit from the firm in question. American families residing in Paris who may have had deposit accounts with the late firm, will suffer less annoyance, as Messrs. MORRIS & Co. have expressed their willingness to make the necessary advances to this class.

The recent failure of TRAIN & Co., of Liverpool, has no relation to the firm of G. F. TRAIN & Co., of Melbourne, Australia.

The extension of this interest west of the Mississippi River is the Burlington and Missouri line. A joint circular has been addressed to the Chicago and Burlington and Michigan Central stockholders, offering the privilege of subscribing to the Burlington and Missouri in the proportions of one share to four in the Chicago and Burlington, and one share to six in the Michigan Central. This privilege, if availed of, is equal to raising a million of capital for the prosecution of the Western Road. The calls upon this are not to exceed 4 ₩ cent. a month, or about 50 ₩ cent. in a year, and the plan of proceeding this week is such that the Company are required to be assessed beyond one half. The value of the Government land grants can, extensively, [illegible]. Seventy-five miles on the eastern end of which 34 are already [illegible] 200,000 acres of land in the northern tier of counties of the State of Iowa. Beyond this 75 miles the Company are not required to finish the line faster than 20 miles a year, beginning with the year 1860, and this work will secure an additional appropriation of six sections to each mile of road. The practical fact which we gather from the circular in connection with the terms of the land grant, is, that the value of two or three, and, possibly, four or five million dollars in choice land is secured by building 20 or 40 miles additional road, to reach the Des Moines River, 75 miles west of Burlington. The subsequent obligation to finish the remaining 205 miles, to reach the Missouri, is placed at the entire option of the Company over a period of seven years from the 1st January, 1860.

In March, 1857, the earnings are not yet officially reported, but are understood at the office to reach $75,000, or $20,000 against $40,949 for the corresponding month last year. The managers estimate that the gross earnings for the current year will be from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000. This result, though achieved through many difficulties and delays, and some financial trouble, is highly gratifying, as placing the security of the loans of the Road which were selling very cheap in the market, beyond reasonable question.

The Cotton Trade.

From Wright's New-York Circular, April 14.

CROP.—The continued decrease in receipts confirms and justifies the opinion that the crop will result in less than 2,000,000 bales. The frost, alluded to in my last circular, extended throughout the entire cotton region, and we are informed that replanting will be necessary in the Southern and South-western portion to some extent. I do not attach any consequence to this frost, beyond the fact that it disposes of the chance for an unusually early season for the next crop. We yesterday received by telegraph from Mobile and New-Orleans, dispatches announcing the occurrence of another severe frost on the morning of the 13th. It is, of course, too early to say what effect this cold weather may have upon the new crop beyond making it backward, but it should not be overlooked in calculating the probabilities that the frost of 16th April, 1849, cut off the crop of that year fully 700,000 bales.

Receipts at the ports are decreasing rapidly. The total for the week under review amounts to 55,000 bales, against 89,000 same week last year, and 62,000 in 1855. Included in the receipts for this week, are 6,000 bales correction in taking stock in Charleston, and which causes the total deficit at the ports to amount to 322,000 bales as compared with last year, and 196,000 as compared with 1855. Next week's table will exhibit a falling off of over 350,000 bales as compared with last year.

The following is a statement of the movement in cotton since the 1st September last, as compared with the previous four years:

Trade in France.

From Paris Letters to the London Press.

The letters from Paris state that the bullion in the Bank of France had increased £710,000 within the last fortnight, the total now held being £9,640,000. Under these circumstances, it has been resolved, from the 3d of April, to reduce the premium offered for gold from 6 per mille to 4. As soon as the stock of bullion shall amount to £12,000,000, artificial purchases are to be entirely discontinued.

"The trade at Paris," says a commercial review, "shows a gradual tendency to revive from the state of atrophy into which it has been plunged for many months. Stocks have become so low that dealers can no longer postp
